Milliken Attends Dedication

A & R Begins Production

By Jon Thompson

A & R Forestry Products started production last week and celebrated its Grand Opening Friday with Governor William Milliken in attendance.

Ronald Hees, chairman of the board of Aladdin Products (A & R's parent company in Plymouth) said he expects plant operations to be in full bloom within two to three weeks employing 40 to 60 persons.

Governor Milliken, speaking at a Grayling Holiday Inn reception hosted by A & R, said with A & R, Weyerhaeuser, and other wood products companies located here and in Gaylord, this part of Michigan is well on its way to becoming the center of a giant industry.

The $2.8 million A & R plant will produce window and door frames, wall paneling and partitions, and other wood construction products.

The new plant, containing the only dry kilns in northern Michigan, has two other features unique to the area.

Six pre-drying rooms can slowly take moisture out of wood avoiding twisting or distorting wood later on in the high-temperature dry kiln.

The plant also will burn its own waste products to heat the building and dry kilns. Hees said the plant will emit practically no pollutants into the air and will save money by burning left-over wood rather than natural gas or other energy sources.

Besides the addition of an annual payroll estimated at $900,000 to the community, Hees said it will be a boon to woodcutters and sawmills in the area.

He said A & R will probably be buying all the wood local sawmills can produce because freight charges will be less than shipping wood from Canada, Wisconsin, and other areas.

AJD Forest Products, of Grayling, already is one of A & R's main local suppliers contributing about 10,000 to 15,000 board feet. At peak capacity, A & R is expected to handle one million board feet a month for certain products.

A & R, in the beginning, is expected to take mostly rough-cut aspen from sawmills and process it into frames and other building materials. Hees said A & R can process custom orders. For now, A & R production will be tied mainly to the housing construction industry.

Inside the large A & R plant, located south of the Grayling Industrial Park, saws are able to cut boards to within five-thousandths of an inch of a specified dimension. A finger-jointing machine - used to join two short pieces of wood - is valued at $170,000.

In his speech, Milliken commended the Crawford County Economic Dev. Corp., the City of Grayling, and the Grayling Chamber of Commerce for working to encourage the business to locate here.

Milliken illustrated the economic impact A & R and other new wood products will have the area by looking at railroad freight. He said six years ago, Grayling was only generating six carloads of outbound freight a year while it received 288 carloads. After A & R, Weyerhaeuser, and Straights Aggregate (another new wood-products business) hit full production, Milliken said they could produce 1,200 to 1,400 of outbound freight a year.

MILLIKEN TOURS A & R—Governor William Milliken toured the new $2.8 million A & R plant last Friday during Grand Opening ceremonies. A & R president Archie Richardson explains some of the plant operations to Milliken. The plant will produce window and door frames, along with other wood products, and employ 40 to 60 persons.

Twp. Hall Plans Nearly Completed

Grayling Township will advertise for bids on the construction work for a new township hall. At their regular meeting Tuesday, Feb. 9, the township board told their architectural firm to go ahead with final construction plans and they approved a motion to advertise for bids on the work.

Grayling Township Supervisor Bernie Fowler said he expects the township to be able to acquire reasonable bid prices on the work. The new township hall, approximately 40 by 115 feet, will be located next to the Grayling Township compact site on North Down River Road.

The price tag on the new building is about $175,000 and the funding will come mainly from a township improvement fund. Township residents will not have to pay any additional taxes for the new building, Fowler said.

Fowler said if construction on the new building went without major problems, the new township building could be completed by July.

Township officials are currently negotiating with Grayling City officials and Grayling Little League authorities concerning a possible mutual parking lot for the township and little league next to the township hall site.

Social Security Paying Less to Five-Year Group

Persons reaching age 62 in 1979 through 1983 may receive less Social Security benefits than other retirees because of a law passed by Congress in 1977.

For more information on the "notch" contact Charles Goddeyne, the district representative of Congressman Bob Davis. Goddeyne schedules meeting times monthly at Grayling, Frederic, and Lovells. Handouts on the 1977 law are available from Goddeyne.

Persons in the five-year span affected by the law can also contact Congressman Davis in Washington or their representative to urge legislative change of the 1977 law.

Mat Men Tune Up for Districts

Grayling wrestlers, ranked fifth in the state for Class C, tuned up for district tournaments this Saturday by posting three victories last week.

Grayling also wrestled a Class A school, Bay City John Glenn, barely getting beat 33-26. The Vikings had to forfeit at two positions but had six wrestlers beat their opponents.

Against John Glenn and Oscoda last Thursday, Steve Sauve, Tim Jensen, Tim Ferrigan, John Solomonson, Jeff Knight, and Wayne Metzger picked up double victories. Solomonson gave his John Glenn opponent his first defeat of the year.

Picking up one win in the dual match was Dan

Meldrum.

In a Saturday dual hosted by Grayling, six wrestlers picked up wins over Clare and Oscoda. Sauve, Jensen, Ferrigan, Solomonson, Knight, and Meldrum won two. Chris Krajanka, Dave Pettit, and Jim Piper earned single victories.

Ferrigan finished the See Mat Men on Page 2

1st and 2nd Grade: Making Their Minds Grow

(Editor's note: Public education throughout the state continues to make headlines, yet it's been ten years or more since most newspaper readers have been in a classroom. Our reporter went back to the classroom for a look at how Crawford AuSable schools are faring. This is the first of an eight-part series.)

By Jon Thompson

Education in Marty Ingvarsson's first and second grade class means teaching the four R's — Reading, "Riting," Rithmetic, and Responsibility.

The extra R, Responsibility, is needed with 32 students - 23 first graders and 9 second graders - in a room with one teacher. While the teacher instructs one group of students, the others have to take responsibility for working independently on handouts and other projects.

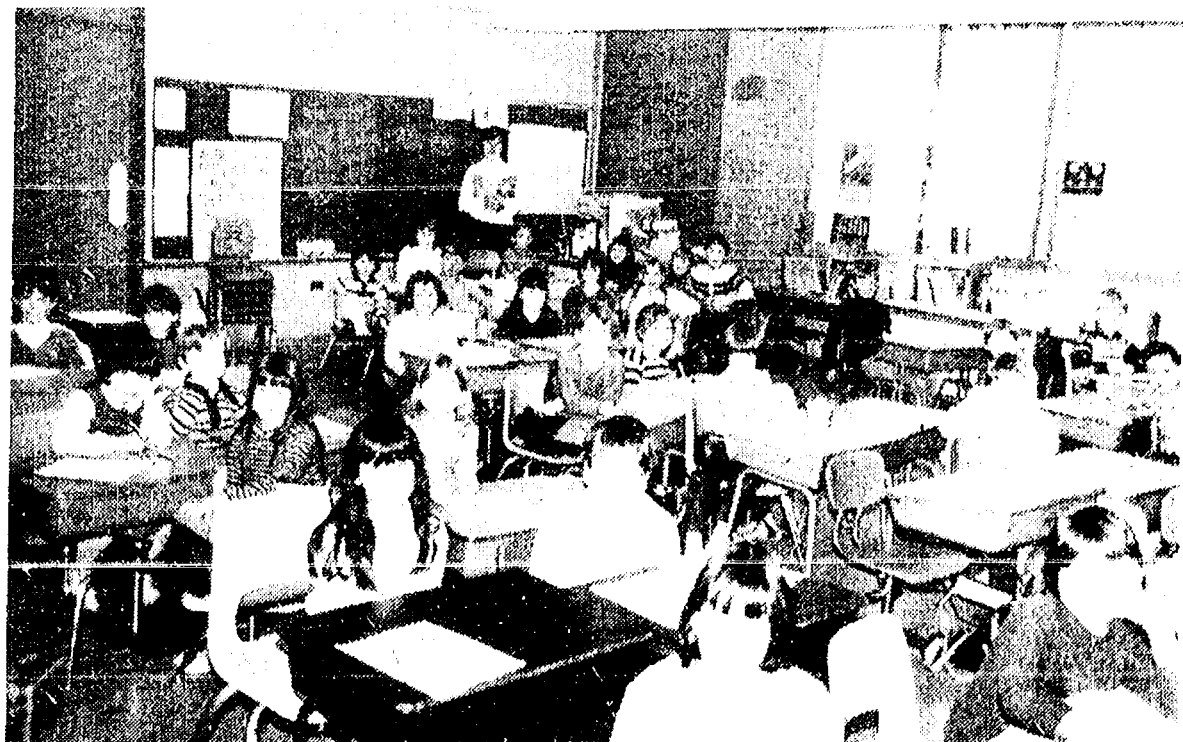

Economic hard times in the Crawford AuSable school system have pushed classroom sizes up and forced the first and second grade split class at Grayling Elementary this year.

"The children are handling themselves very well,"

Ingvarsson said. "They cooperate very nicely and the independence they are learning will be very good for them later on."

The split class has drawbacks, however. Because of the difference in learning ability of the first and second graders, who are six to eight years old, the class is divided into several groups. For reading there are 5 groups, for math 3 groups, and for writing there are 2 groups.

While Ingvarsson instructs one group, the others have to work on assignments alone - See Classroom on Page 2 a big task for a six-year-old first grader.

"There's no immediate feedback this way," she said. "It's not like working with an entire group when you can put something on the board and then go around to check to see who isn't picking it up."

Instead of the whole class tackling one problem, Ingvarsson must give out instructions to one group and move on to another. With the two grades, the only subject she can discuss with the whole class is geography and some general information items such as holidays.

Shorter school hours this year have also changed classroom instruction.

"There's no time this year for anything fun the students or teachers like to do," Ingvarsson said. "We can't do any creative things."

"When I taught in Frederic Elementary we had a program called uninterrupted silent reading in which kids could read anything they wanted - comics, newspapers, books - for fifteen minutes. Then we would discuss what we had read."

"That was really enjoyable. Now we just read and do the exercises in the workbook. We don't have time to expand on what we read."

Ingvarsson said before this year her students went to music and gym classes. There's no music program this year. There is a schedule for classroom teachers to take their students to the gym but Ingvarsson says there is no time.

"Where are you going to fit it in?"

The first and second graders do have a library hour now every other week and they are happy about their library books. Several of the students in first-second split class said library hour was their favorite time at school except for recess.

Another good thing for the kids in the first-second split class is the help of three parents, Kathy Gray, Cindy Green, and Marilyn Rosi, who donate a half-day once a week to aid in individual instruction. They'll sit with one to six kids in the hallway working on flashcards, story-writing, and other work.

Ingvarsson said parents at home also help out by having their children read stories to them. She said parents encouraging children to read is an important factor in the success of a young student.

Her class has scored well on California Achievement Tests and seem better prepared for school, in some ways, than earlier generations possibly because of television programs such as Sesame Street and Mr. Rogers.

One area the television programs appear to help is with the students' vocabularies. In an assignment designed to have the students use the dictionary, Ingvarsson had some of her students look up the colors azure, coral, crimson, turquoise, emerald, and aqua. The other colors stumped most of the kids, but aqua, a Spanish word explained often on Sesame Street, did not. Many of the students knew what the word and color was before turning to a dictionary.

Despite cutbacks in most school programs, Ingvarsson said she could cope with them if the overloaded classrooms were reduced.

"Twenty to twenty-two little kids in a classroom should be the limit, absolutely no more."

Besides having 32 minds under her direction, there are 32 energetic youngsters in a small classroom.

"There's no space in here to have library corners or other learning centers for the kids to go to. Right now all they do is pick up their handouts and go back to their desk. Little children aren't used to sitting in one place for that long of a time."

Back in the classroom, Ingvarsson is discussing a story with one reading group when the noise in another part of the room picks up. She asks the second graders disturbing the room to rest their heads on their desks for a minute to quiet them.

A little while later, noise increases again and she asks the rest of the class outside of the reading group she is working with to put their heads on their desks to quiet down.

It's nearing recess time and now her reading class is itching to be dismissed. She reminds them they have another story to be read by tomorrow.

"Oh, do we have to do another one Mrs. Ingvarsson?" a young girl pleads. "You sure do. It's the only way to make your brain grow."

Doodles From The Tall Timber

Wendell L. Hoover
Park Interpreter

Sometime ago I spoke about some of the different types of duties and work that I do as a part of my job. One thing has become very apparent and that is there is variety. Late in the summer a list of projects for the fall and winter is put together and arranged in order of priorities. This fall was no exception and, while the list was not long, it was certain that considerable time would be spent on the various items. There were two informational panels to do, a large map of the campground for Fisherman's Island, four new maps for our Park to reflect changes in facilities, and completion of a new display for the Interpretive Center.

Near the end of the list was a project, two years in storage, which was looked forward to with fascination and trepidation as well. From the living farm at Maybury State Park, a horse-drawn wagon had been brought to me for rebuilding. It is one thing to build for display use only, but this is a working wagon.

This project was actually started two years ago with the selection of the oak lumber and timbers from which the various parts would be milled. Just before Christmas, the running gear and wheels were brought into the shop and reassembled. From outward appearances the front and rear haws did not look too bad, but looks are often deceiving. Close inspection revealed dry rot and so everything was stripped back to the axles. Out of the rough-sawn oak, all the parts were band-sawed to shape, smoothed and reassembled with all the supporting iron work. One look was enough to tell that at least one front wheel needed rebuilding from the axle cone out. Right now most of the parts for that wheel have been rough sawn to shape, but the all-important hub is a hulking block of eight-by-eight oak that bears little resemblance to what it must become.

To be truthful, I have never built a wheel, but I will. Each day now begins with a step back in time when the wainwright was an important part of our society because the world moved on his product. A challenge? You bet, but the world moves because of it. I will keep you posted on the progress.

Dear Whitey,
L. Brooks Patterson, Oakland County Prosecuting Attorney and Republican candidate for governor, renewed his call for Capital Punishment, after a 28-year old State Police trooper was shot and killed last week on a highway south of Lansing. Patterson, who is leading a petition drive to reinstate Capital Punishment, claims the death penalty could deter such crimes. "Craig Scott probably would not have been killed, if we had the death penalty for first degree murder," the prosecutor said.

Patterson believes that the senseless murder of this trooper will convince people of the necessity of the death penalty. The U.S. Supreme Court in 1976 ruled that the death penalty was constitutional for many "undoubtedly is a significant deterrent." Since that ruling, 42 states and federal jurisdictions have reinstated Capital Punishment.

Patterson needs 350,000 signatures by the end of May in order to place a Constitutional Amendment Referendum on the November ballot. "We now have more than 160,000 signatures," Patterson stated, "but it is imperative that we work very hard to bring in the rest." He also asked that anyone circulating these petitions get them completed and sent in as soon as possible. Anyone who would like to circulate petitions may get them by calling 348-7253 and leaving their name, address and phone number.

Sincerely,
Art Thayer

Governor Hopeful at Hotel Tues., Feb. 23

A second event was added to the Crawford County Republican schedule last week when L. Brooks Patterson was scheduled for a cocktail hour at the Chief Shoppemagon Hotel from 4:00 to 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, February 23, by Mary Jane Thayer, his Crawford Co. Campaign Chairman. This will be an open bar affair where everyone will get a chance to meet and talk to the Oakland County Prosecutor, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor of Michigan in the August primary election.

No special invitations will be sent out as everyone is invited to come to meet the man so they can make an evaluation of him to assist them in deciding who they may vote for in August. The time is set up so people can come and go as their schedule demands. It won't be necessary to get there right at 4:00 or to stay until 6:30. No tickets will be sold in advance or at the door. The only cost for this opportunity will be determined by how much, if any, orange pop one wants.

The other event is the annual Lincoln Day Dinner which will be at the Grayling American Legion Hall at 6:00 p.m. on Friday, March 5. The feature speaker at that time will be former 11th District Congressman and now a candidate for the Republican nomination for U.S. Senator, Phil Ruppe, of Houghton in the upper peninsula. Tickets for this dinner are available from any member of the Crawford County Republican Committee; Olson's Shoes, The Mercantile, Al's Shirt Shop, John Huss, attorney; Clough Realty, or by calling 348-7253 in Grayling or from State Wide Realty or Douglas Dosson, attorney in Roscommon.

The County Committee wanted to make sure that anyone wanting to come would not be priced out when they set the price at $7.00 per person.

Senate Hopeful Here Feb. 23-24

William Ballenger, U.S. Senate candidate, will be in Grayling Wednesday, Feb. 24, walking through downtown and the mall area to meet area residents.

A reception for Ballenger will be held Tuesday, Feb. 23, 7:30 p.m. at the Houghton Lake Holiday Inn and area persons are also invited to meet Ballenger there.

Ballenger has completed 120 miles of his walk through Michigan, starting in the Upper Peninsula. Call Marvel Lippert, 348-5889, for more information about his walk through Grayling Wednesday morning or his reception Tuesday night.

From Our Corner ...

Perfect winter weather prevailed over Grayling's 57th annual granddaddy of all winter carnivals in Michigan this past weekend making an ideal setting for all the winter games that were on tap...the kickoff dinner held last Thursday at Chief Shoppenagons was attended by over 175 people and the presentation of Donelle Bentley as Miss Grayling for 1982, her court and other contestants made the kick-off a huge success...now another chapter in winter carnivals in Grayling has been closed, and 1982 will go down in history as one of the better carnivals with the weather cooperating...

The following has nothing to do with the carnival, but from what I have heard, the ol' fella owes an explanation of some sorts...on the front page of last week's Avalanche we had the ice sculpture by Johnny Deckrow depicting the Statue of Liberty with the wording at the top "Remember Pearl Harbor"...underneath we had Circa 1940, which means around...I guess we should have been more explicit and put 1942, which was the year the sculpture was built...not only have we heard complaints from some of our readers, we also heard from our household...seems as this was the year our bride was Miss Grayling Winter Queen, and she told me that was her standing on the throne steps in the white snow suit...I guess we can't win them all...We were thinking more of showing off one of the best sculptures that Mr. Deckrow came up with each year...

An idle thought...this cold weather must have something to do with the absence of our friend, the Retired Railroad man, coming in every now and then to drop a few words of wisdom in our ears...about the only time we see Irv is on Monday when he breezes in to collect his buck...we're still waiting for him to come in with just a wee bit of winnings...

Another idle thought...the above was put in just to try and fill some of this turkey for this week...just running into mind stoppage and this is Sunday afternoon, don't know what we would do if this was deadline Monday night...

Congratulations are in order for Coach Don Ferguson's Viking wrestlers following their Michigan-Huron Shores Conference wrestling championship...this was the very first place trophy won by Vike wrestlers after numerous second, third and fourth finishings...now begins the trek towards the state titles in each class...good luck...

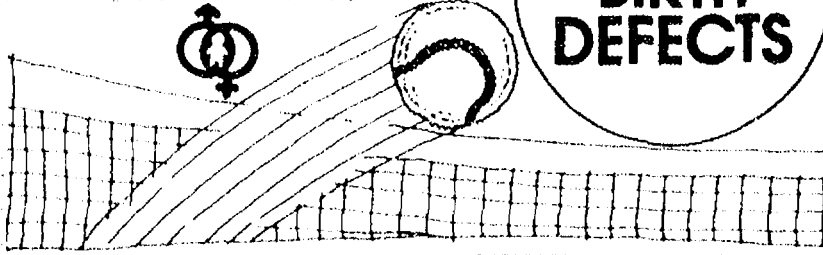

Seems like just yesterday plus 105 years that we have seen our Nevada family, Dane, Cyd and Amber, and now with the help of the Deity and the airlines our schedule calls for departure Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 23rd...Dane tells me I need swimming trunks so I can sit in their spa and sip on an orange pop...doesn't seem like a bad idea then we can look up at the snow on Black Mountain and think about good old northern Michigan...it will be a reprieve...

Tip of the Derby goes to the winners of the ice sculptures that were made for the winter carnival weekend...7-Eleven won first prize, Skip's Sports second prize and Wendy's won third. Certificates of appreciation went to Jeff Harney and Corky Hellebuyck for their endeavors...every little bit helped to promote the carnival this year...

Times slipped by for the ol' fella so we will have to close this turkey for this week...just think you only have to put up with one more column and then the both of us will have a reprieve for two weeks...goodnight T.J., Stef, and Amber...have a nice weekend...it is time to think spring...

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

Justification, The Work Of One

Romans 5:12-16

Our Justification is the representative work of our Lord Jesus Christ, just as our former Condemnation was because of the work of our representative head, Adam.

"Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned." Romans 5:12. Notice in your side reference in your KJV Bible "for that" could also be translated "in whom". Notice the representative implications. One man brought sin into the world. One man brought death into the world. One man brought death upon all men. All men sinned in one man.

Our condemnation in Adam is apart from the law of God. "For until the law sin was in the world: but sin is not imputed when there is no law." Verse 13. "Nevertheless death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over the similitude of Adam's transgression, who is the figure of him that was to come." Verse 14. Do you notice that the common death of all men show us racially united to Adam? All of us owe our physical life to Adam, but also our physical death. If some men were not descended from Adam, then men prior to the law given to Moses would not have died.

Our Justification in Jesus Christ is comparable to our Condemnation in Adam. "But not as the offence, so also is the free gift. For if through the offence of one many be dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto many." Verse 15. Just as we did nothing to be condemned by Adam's sin, so also we do nothing to be justified by "the free gift" of one, Jesus Christ. All who are trusting Adam are condemned. All who are trusting Jesus Christ are justified. The justifying work of Jesus Christ came from "the grace of God" and is "the gift of grace". This means you can do nothing to earn it. Grace is unmerited favor and undeserved mercy. Man's salvation is all of God's Grace. Man can do nothing to be justified. Man can only cast himself upon the mercy and grace of God by faith in God's Word.

Adam's sin brought God's judgment and condemnation upon all men, while the blood of Jesus Christ covered all our sins or offences, and His resurrection offered us the gift of eternal life as justified children of God. "And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgment was by one to condemnation, but the free gift is of many offences unto justification." Verse 16.

My friend, you are either trusting your natural qualities from Adam and stand condemned, facing Hell for eternity, or you are trusting your "new birth" in Christ Jesus as the "free gift" which has brought you "justification" and assures you of an eternal home in Heaven for all eternity. (adv.)

Shell Resumes Drilling in Pigeon River Forest

TRAVERSE CITY—Oil and gas drilling operations have begun again in the Pigeon River Country State Forest near Gaylord. Shell Oil Company began drilling the State Corwith 1-14 wildcat test well on Monday, January 25, according to W.D. Saulmon, operations manager for the company in Michigan.

Saulmon said about two weeks will be required to drill the well to its target depth of 5,000 feet. Shell has received drilling permits for two other geological tests (State Corwith 1-36 and 1-23) and applied for a permit to drill the State Corwith 1-26 and 2-22. All of the tests are designated wildcat wells. Additional sites will be considered later, according to Saulmon.

The DNR approved drilling operations in what is known as Area 1-B of the forest in December. Shell was informed by the DNR that the company had complied with all of the environmental safeguards and other state requirements during its operations in Area 1-A of the forest in 1981.

Shell is operator in the state forest for a group of companies. Other major interest owners are Amoco Production Company and Northern Michigan Exploration Company.

Weather Satellites

The first weather satellite was launched in 1960. Since then weather satellites have taken more than 2.2 million pictures and travelled more than 7.5 billion miles. Not one major hurricane or storm has gone undetected. Thirty such satellites have been put into orbit during the past 15 years.

Chris Clover's Corner

By Sue Louchart
Hi! I'm Chris Clover here with the news from the Crawford County 4-H Clubs in the area.
Snow! Snow! Snow! With all the snow we have had many of the clubs didn't meet in the month of January. February has been better so far.
A good club to join in this snowy weather is the new Arts & Crafts Club. Miss Pat Sloan their leader brought some large pine cones back from Florida for the members to make pine cone people out of. The members had a lot of fun doing this project. The club meets Thursdays after school until 4:30 and has space for others to work on projects, call the Office.
The Small Farm Animals would like to congratulate their Teen Leader Chelle Warners for being first runner-up in the Miss Grayling pageant. Nice going Chelle!
This club has a special winter project doing the history of Northern Lower Michigan. They need your help with information from the 1900 to present especially information on the Pere Cheney ghost town. Any pictures, books, newspaper clippings and etc. they could look for facts in would be appreciated. They are planning to make a large poster on the information for Achievement Day this summer during Milltown.

I spoke of snow earlier and the Miss Grayling pageant, the 4-H Clown Club performed at the Winter Sports Carnival out at Hanson Hills.
The Performing Arts Group is busy practicing for events coming up. The Kitchen Magicians are learning lots about cooking, the Physical Fitness Club needs kids who want to be fit, the Needlecraft Club has room for more who want to learn about needles and hooks. Some clubs don't meet but in the summer like the softball. Don't get the winter blues get in 4-H!
The 4 County Performing Arts workshop was held on Feb. 6th at Roscommon. Their next meeting will be at Gladstone County on Feb. 20th. This is for the older youth interested in the Arts.
4-H'ers should start thinking about Exploration Days coming up this spring. The book with all the course options will be available in the 4-H Office in March.
The new Extension Club is having a free Hollow Easter Eggs demonstration March 1st at 1:00 p.m. at the Beaver Creek Town Hall on 7 Mile Road between Old 27 and U.S. 27 South of Grayling.
Notice to all Leaders, Teachers and Teen Leaders that registration for the Food Nutrition Workshop at Kettunen Center on the 12th and 13th of March has to be in by Feb. 22nd to the Office.
If you are interested in any of the Clubs or in starting a new club contact the Extension Office at 348-2841 and ask for the 4-H Office. See you soon with more news from the Crawford County 4-H Clubs!

LATER, THE MAYOR AND SWIFTY MET UP WITH POLICE CHIEF STUFFINS.

RSVP Reports

Sherry Haag, Director
Welcome to news of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program. This week I'll be discussing volunteers involvement in the field of Education. This is another area of discussion covered at the White House Conference on Aging held Nov. 30-Dec. 3, in Washington, D.C.
Learning is a continuing process all Americans, young and old alike, have the right to learn about their world, nation, community, and to improve themselves. Yet educational training has traditionally been geared toward preparing the young for the future. Seniors now recognize the importance in preparing themselves for new careers or new activities and in improving their minds.

We as a nation also need to expand our vision. We must educate the public about the concerns and capabilities of seniors if we hope to be prepared for the coming decades with a predominately aging population.
An ideal way to bridge generational gaps is to allow the old and the young to share ideas and values. This way each will learn & grow.
In hundreds of communities around the nation, RSVP's are providing seniors to help in numerous reading programs. Volunteers also do tutoring for slow learners.
In Michigan, Escanaba RSVP recently celebrated it's last year anniversary. Volunteers are involved in tutoring at the schools, working as aides at the local hospital, working with the Dept. of Social Services, and the YMCA plus helping in the areas nursing homes.

In Crawford County, volunteers are always needed for help in the schools reading program.
Remember, Recognition Dinner for all RSVP volunteers is coming in May. You must have at least 30 hours to be the guest of RSVP. If you're low in hours, now's the time to get some before May. Call the office and check if you're not sure how many hours you have.
We have scrapbooks that can be done at home and will be having yarn for mittens and hats soon.
If you have any suggestions or ideas on making RSVP better or are interested in any of the above mentioned assignments, give the office a call at 348-4341 or 348-8322.

Ad Ruling May Lead to Lower Prices

Warren M. Hoyt, Executive Director, MPA

State rules prohibiting advertising by retailers of liquor, including beer and wine prices, are unconstitutional because they violate the First Amendment protections of free speech and are an unreasonable extension of the Liquor Control Commission's police authority, Attorney General Frank J. Kelley has ruled.

The ruling supercedes refusal two years ago by the legislative Joint Committee on Administrative Rules to approve proposed commission rules which would have permitted price advertising.

That was part of Governor William G. Milliken's proposal to deregulate the liquor industry in Michigan.

Price advertising of liquor outside a licensed retail premise has been prohibited since the repeal of prohibition.

The Kelley ruling was criticized by the Michigan Council on Alcohol Problems and the Michigan Beer and Wine Wholesalers Association.

Dennis Hyberger of the wholesalers said he doubted it would mean lower prices on beer and wine while Rev. Allen Rice, head of the alcohol problems commission, said he did not see any relationship between free speech and the prohibition of liquor advertising.

However, Dan Sparks, a Liquor Control Commission aide, said the ruling would have the greatest impact on beer and wine as the prices of spirits are controlled by law and distilleries already have the right to advertise the price of their products.

In the formal opinion, Kelley said the Liquor Control Commission does not enjoy "unfettered power to regulate traffic in alcoholic beverages."

Any controls "must be exercised in a manner which is consistent with the fundamental rights guaranteed by the Bill of Rights and the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution."

Until recently, he said, commercial speech was believed excepted from First Amendment guarantees. He noted, however, a recent series of court decisions has left no doubt that commercial speech is protected by the First Amendment's guarantee of free speech.

He further noted the court has also overturned prohibitions for advertising of prescription drugs, lawyers and established a four part test for determining if government regulations of commercial advertising is permitted.

The state prohibition exceeds the state's police power, Kelley said, as it violates the state's policy of promoting commerce, thus "inhibiting consumers in the exercise of cost-effective and informed purchasing."

Front-Loading Back Before Legislature

The Senate and House have separate proposals to provide taxpayers with their state property tax credits at the time their tax bills are due.

The so-called "front-loading" concept provides that the state's more than $500 million in property tax credits be given when individual's property taxes are due rather than being coupled with filing the state income tax return.

The proposal is similar to one passed last year but since it was tied to additional property tax relief, it was vetoed by Milliken on grounds the state budget could not afford the relief proposed.

The new proposal would not take effect until 1983.

College Week Scholarships Available

by Gail Edwards, Ext. Home Eco.

The Michigan division of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will again provide scholarships for some Michigan Residents to attend College Week, a four-day experience in informal learning at Michigan State University.

In 1981, the association contributed over $5,000, providing scholarships for more than 65 persons to attend College Week.

College Week, an annual event sponsored by the MSU Cooperative Extension Service Family Living Education program, and held on the MSU campus in East Lansing, attracts more than 1,300 persons, who come from every county in Michigan. This year, it is scheduled for June 21-24.

While at College Week, participants attend classes and workshops, sleep and eat in a dormitory, have the opportunity to go on tours, attend the theatre and participate in a wide variety of growth experiences.

"This year, more than 50 classes are being offered," says Wilma Miller, MSU College Week program coordinator. "Topics cover such subjects as microwave cooking, handling stress, financial estate planning, solar and other energy options, family communications and leadership development."

Karen Kaiser Clark of the Center for Executive Planning in St. Paul, Minnesota will give the keynote address. Her topic is "Grow Deep, Not Just Tall."

Any interested person may apply for a National Farm and Garden scholarship by contacting the MSU Extension home economist in his/her county. Deadline for applying is March 10, 1982. In Roscommon and Crawford Counties call Gail Edwards at 275-5043 to request an application. In Oscoda County call Gail at 826-3280 for an application.

Karyn Reynolds Takes a First in Ski Racing

Fifteen year old Karyn Reynolds of Grayling took first place in both downhill ski races and first place in slalom racing this past weekend at Thunder Mountain in CUSSA ski racing competition.

About 110 young men and women ski racers from Michigan took part in the fourth of five ski races partially sponsored by Nordica, Soloman and Rosignol and run by the Central Division of the United States Ski Association (CUSSA). The best racers in this program are invited to the Divisional Championships to be held at Indian Head Mountain in Michigan's Upper Peninsula the end of February. As this same United States Ski Association program is repeated all over the country, all young amateur skiers have an opportunity to be recognized and to advance toward the ultimate, a berth on the U. S. Ski Team.

Karyn is a Sophomore at Grayling High School and races on the H.S. Ski Team. She has been skiing since she was four years old and racing for the past seven years. She practices at Hanson Hills and is coached by Mike Wieland.

The Vikes M.H.S. league meet was Tuesday, Feb. 16th at Nubs Nob also Feb. 19th at Nubs against regional competition.

Vikes Rattle Gaylord But Fall Short 73-59

A cherry-pick offense by Grayling rattled Gaylord, but in the end, Gaylord settled down to hand Grayling a 73-59 loss.

Gaylord, now 8-3 in the league, opened the game by playing a box-and-one defense on Brad Trenary, the Viking's leading scorer. The strategy worked well for Gaylord in an earlier season win over Grayling.

This time, however, Grayling countered by having Trenary cherry-pick. Trenary pressured the ball as Gaylord brought it up but once they passed the mid-court line he headed for his own bucket.

The surprise move couldn't have worked better for Grayling most of the first half. Grayling picked up rebounds early in the game and threw full-court passes to Trenary who put in uncontested lay-ups or beat a Gaylord player one-on-one. Trenary also came up with steals while pressuring Gaylord as they brought the ball upcourt.

Gaylord finally settled down just before the half ended and overcame a three-point Grayling lead to take a one-point advantage into the locker room. At the start of the second half, Grayling dropped back into a standard 2-3 defense. Gaylord hit some outside shots while Grayling couldn't connect and they outscored the Green and White 14-1 to take control of the game.

Trenary finished with 25 points for Grayling and several steals. Monte D'Amour hit for 12 points, Jamie Radebaugh 7, Ted Methner 6, Tracy Fagan 5, Mike Hickey 2, and Wayne Ross 2.

In the Roscommon game, senior guard Chuck Moses hit for 30 points to lead the Bucks over Grayling. Trenary was high scorer again for Grayling with 18, Methner scored 15, D'Amour and Radebaugh 4 apiece, Fagan and Ross 3 each, and Hickey scored 2.

In J.V. action, Grayling dropped a close decision to Gaylord to lower their league record to 7-4.

WINTER CARNIVAL

Viking Volleyball

Grayling hosted St. Ignace, fourth in the state volleyball rankings and almost pulled off an upset but fell just short losing 15-13 and 15-12 in the second match after being dominated by Saint serves in the first. The scrappy Vikes were led by the aggressive play by Wendy Savallisch, Tammy Savallisch, Lisa LaMotte, Shelly Trenary, Jenny Riker, and Kay Fox.

The Grayling JV's gave the Saints a much improved squad to tangle but St. Ignace came out on top 15-12, 15-12, and 15-8. Michelle Muriel, Dawn Phelps, Deanna Hubbard, Traci Riley, Shannon Kraycs, Tammy Moore, and Paula Harwood combined for the energetic Viking effort.

In the St. Ignace invitational held Saturday, the Vikings beat Petoskey but couldn't hold onto the leads they earned from Detour and Rogers City finishing sixth overall. The Varsity played with a lot of hustling intensity in their first two matches with a balance statistically between Tammy Savallisch (15/15) & Jenny Riker (18/19) in setting; Wendy Savallisch (57/69), Shelly Trenary (66/78), & Jenny Riker (107/116); & strong spiking from Lisa LaMotte & Wendy Savallisch. Shelly Trenary (20/20), Tammy Savallisch (17/20), Wendy Savallisch (15/16), and Kay Fox (11/12) led the serving attack. The Vikings travel to Rogers City Wednesday looking to upset the 6th ranked team in the state.

Player of the Week: 2/10/82 - Jenny Riker and 2/13/82 - Tammy Savallisch.

The Vikings split with Charlevoix last Thursday in tough court action, coming back time after time to finally win the second set 15-13, 15-12 while dropping the first set 15-13, 13-15 and 9-15. Coach Becky Brown said, "We were working as an aggressive unit in all aspects of the game. This match should be the catalyst we need. We've generally had good individual performances but this is the first time the entire team has put it together. It was great."

Leading the Viking servers were Raeann McEvers (12/12), Jenny Riker (16/18), Kay Fox (15/18) and Lisa LaMotte (15/19). Tammy Savallisch and Riker ran the multiple offense as setters and their net work, plus a key block from Riker, changed the momentum in Grayling's favor. Wendy Savallisch connected on most of those sets coming up with excellent spikes on crucial points. Wendy and Tammy Savallisch worked well with Fox, Riker, Dawn Hawley and Shelly Trenary combining for a 94% bumping effectiveness.

The varsity didn't fare as well in their earlier meeting with Gaylord and Kalkaska losing two matches to each but had strong moments against Traverse City High School in the Oscoda Invitational held January 30th where the Vikes also tangled with Ogemaw and state ranked Rogers City.

Players of the week: 1/27/82 Kay Fox, 1/30/82 Jenny Riker, 2/1/82 Shelly Trenary, 2/4/82 Jenny Riker.

G.H.S. to Present "Catch-22"

Thanks to the efforts of the newly-formed Crawford County Arts Council, the Grayling High School Players will present a winter play, "Catch-22," this year.

The future looked bleak for the drama program when, in August and again in December, the local millage increase proposal went down to defeat, thereby curtailing funding of extra-curricular activities. But then a cadre of interested adults and students met to discuss what measures could be taken to reinstate the various arts programs in the schools.

From their efforts last fall, the Crawford County Arts Council was born. Still in its infancy, the Council is struggling simply to earn the funds necessary to support the arts programs that have been cut from the school system. But the membership, headed by President Rosalia Matyn, has big plans for its organization: The long-range goal is to provide a variety of arts activities, programs, and performances for all county residents, from the young to the old.

Meanwhile, the Arts Council invites community members to see its first production, Joseph Heller's comedy "Catch-22," when it is presented by 23 talented high school students on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, February 25, 26, and 27. Tickets, at $2.00, are available from cast members, or may be purchased at Flowers by Josie, The Grayling Mercantile, or the Grayling Pharmacy. Tickets will also be sold at the door on production nights. "Catch-22" will be presented in the Joseph Stripe Auditorium at Grayling High School, at 8:00 p.m.

Bits O'Talk

By Fay Bovee

News from Mrs. Stuart Rose is that her aunt, Juanita Fauver (nee Vollmer) broke her leg and Mrs. Rose's mother, Evelyn Nugent has gone to Saginaw to care for her. The ladies are enjoying themselves playing Scrabble night and day - we wonder who the winner will be? A niece, Sandra Stout of Saginaw spent a week with Mrs. Rose while Mr. Rose was in Canada on business. Valentine Day visitors were her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill LaMotte and Angel, of Flint. They enjoyed Sunday School together and a Valentine Day dinner. Sandra returned to Saginaw with the LaMottes.

Grayling visitors weekend before last were Dr. and Mrs. Jules Levey and daughter, Hillary, of Farmington Hills, Pam Levey's parents, Hoppy and Ann Eldred of W. Bloomfield; Lee and Helen Witham, and their daughter and family, Bob and Marilyn Cox and children, Amy and Robbie of Farmington Hills. They all visited Mrs. Sadie Brady and other relatives while here.

Arthur and Cindy Wakeley of Westland are the happy parents of another girl, Stacey Jane, born on Thursday, January 28, 1982. She weighed 10 lbs. 3 ozs. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weideman and Arthur Wakeley, Sr. Great grandmother is Mrs. Sadie Brady. Mrs. Weideman spent a couple of weeks in Detroit, part of the time with F.J. and Jean McClain and part of it with the Wakeleys.

AT FUNERALS I DON'T LIKE TO VIEW THE BODY

Many persons ask why at funerals and visitations we view the body of the deceased. Psychologists tell us that viewing is usually helpful because our natural tendency is to deny death. Visitation acknowledges that a death has occurred. Seeing is believing, where simple telling is not always helpful. Visitation and viewing also play a social role. The deceased usually has many friends who would like to express their sympathy. Seeing the deceased in the presence of friends eliminates shock and disbelief. Friends are given a chance to say their goodbyes and to provide a family with some needed support.

Middle School News

The 3rd hour class in Social Studies in Mrs. Emerick's class has a student government class. This gives every student in the class a chance to be responsible. We have counsels, co-counsels, workers and co-workers, and a Senate of seven with one person being the Senate head.

Every Friday we have a Senate meeting to tell how many points we have and to discuss class problems. The points are arranged in this way: 20 points and you sit by the teacher until you can be a little quieter. Fifteen more points and you have sentences to write. Fifteen more points and the teacher calls home. Sometimes the meetings get out of hand, but in time it will go great. by Jody Dowland-6th grade

Mrs. Emerick's Social Studies class has been running their own government. We had an election to find out who our president or counsels would be. We made our own law and punishments. We have found out that running something isn't so easy. We have a Senate meeting every Friday. We have lots of fun. by Jeff Wolcott-6th grade

COLORING LIFE

Coloring is one of our first creative arts. A child learns to make a picture more real by crayoning between the lines—provided he uses the right colors. Green faces and red grass can make a picture less real.

Coloring is often important in the early years of religious education in church. Bible truths are more firmly grasped as a child puts his creative skills into illustrating Bible stories.

In a deeper sense all religious growth is a matter of seeing life in the right colors... learning what God wants his world to be like... and how we can help accomplish his aims. We never outgrow our need to serve the Lord creatively.

Visitors at the Dick Hamlins and Bob Stephens this weekend were Richard and Margie Smith and family of Mt. Pleasant.

Legal Notice of Public Meeting

The Northern Michigan Health Systems Agency will hold a Public meeting on its application for renewal of Full Designation as the Health Systems Agency for Michigan Health Service Area Seven.

Michigan Health Service Area Seven includes the following 18 counties in northern Michigan: Alcona, Alpena, Antrim, Benzie, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Crawford, Emmet, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Leelanau, Manistee, Missaukee, Montmorency, Oscoda, Otsego, Presque Isle, and Wexford.

Authority for designation is based on Public Law 93-641, National Health Planning and Resource Development Act of 1974, (as amended by P.L. 96-79) and appropriate rules and regulations.

The application process for a Health Systems Agency requires a public hearing to be held at least thirty days prior to submission of the application to the Department of Health and Human Services to allow for community input. In order to reflect the feelings of the community, we urge you to attend this meeting.

Date: March 22, 1982 Time: 10:00 am thru 12:00 pm
Location: Northern Michigan Health Systems Agency Office

Hollywood Arcade
325 East Lake St.
Petoskey, Michigan 49770

Written comments from individuals or community groups unable to attend will be accepted until Friday, March 26, 1982. A copy of the application for renewal of Full Designation will be available for public inspection and copying after March 19, 1982 at the Agency's office at the address listed above.

HITTING THE CEILING—Packages from food and other household products almost reach the ceiling at the Grayling Elementary some days as interest in the package return program picks up. Ann Haight, of Grayling, shown here with some of the packages, containers, and wrappers brought in by school students, is one of the persons turning the pile into money for the C.H.I.L.D. school library program. Haight, Debbie Hoyt, and others have made $93 since the end of January by turning in labels, boxtops, and so forth from the packages.

Sen. Irwin's Aide Here Feb. 23rd

State Senator Mitch Irwin's District Representative, Greg T. Long, will be in Montmorency, Otsego, Crawford, Alpena, Cheboygan, Alcona, and Presque Isle Counties the week of February 22, holding office hours and meeting with local citizens to discuss problems, cut red tape, and bring state government closer to the people of the 37th Senatorial District.

You are welcome to stop by and take a few minutes to talk with Mr. Long if you would like to make your views known or if you have a problem involving an agency of the state government. No appointment is necessary.

Mr. Long's schedule will be as follows: February 23, Tuesday, 12:00 noon to 1:00 p.m. - lunch with seniors at Crawford County Senior Center (Grayling); 1:00 p.m. to 2:00 p.m. - Crawford County Building (Grayling)-office hours.
